PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

What a contrast exists between conditions then and now. A typical Edmonton high school then had about twelve to fourteen rooms, approximately four hundred pupils, and about a dozen teachers. The teachers each taught a full day and even the principal taught most of the day. With few exceptions everyone took the same program—a matriculation one. Scholarships and paid tuition were rare, and the cost of sending a pupil through high school was often beyond the means of many parents. Extracurricular activities were confined to a few sports and an occasional dance.

Today's high schools are very different. Instead of twelve rooms, Eastglen expects next year to have forty-five, including shops and home economics rooms. In place of a dozen teachers, we shall have fifty-four, some of whom will do little or no classroom teaching. We shall offer four types of programs, and a vast array of extracurricular activities for our twelve hundred and

One is always tempted to reminisce a little every pupil to make some adjustments to this whenever the time arrives for another class to new kind of school life. Each pupil must make graduate. This time, my recollections go back a conscious effort to play some active part in to the time when our graduating pupils were just the life of his school. Counsellors, room reprelearning to walk and to talk—about seventeen sentatives, Student Union executive members, club officers—all have important roles to play in helping students to get the most out of their school life. And this help will prove of no avail unless each pupil co-operates in seeking to benefit from the offerings of the school. The beautiful, modern school you attend has endless opportunities for each student, but they are opportunities that must be seized, or they will

This issue of the BLUE and GOLD represents one of the opportunities for service and worthwhile experience this school affords its pupils. The editors, feature writers, photographers, business assistants, and others who have made use of this opportunity have earned the thanks of all of us. They have done their job well, and we trust the readers of the new Year Book will find it most rewarding. I believe your satisfaction with this book will increase as the years pass. As you occasionally look through its pages, fond memories will be recalled.

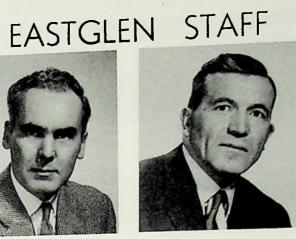

It is the wish of all of us who remain at Eastglen that every student who is leaving our The whole fabric of high school life has school this year will carry away with him many changed since today's graduands were little chil-dren. It has become complex and perhaps a emotionally and spiritually. Our best wishes go

TO THE GRAD CLASS OF 1959

Thank you for the privilege of representing the staff as your Honorary

This year brings to a close a relationship between us that has, in some instances, extended over a period of ten years. It has been an exceedingly exciting period in your lives, and in mine. Though many of you have not been in my classes, we have all been working toward a common goal: your successful graduation.

Although marks must of necessity assume an awesome importance in the lives of teachers and students alike, perhaps we all interpret the word "marks" too narrowly. Report card marks? By all means, yes. But in the fields of student government, clubs, and athletics many of you have made worthwhile contributions. You have provided sound leadership. Indeed, you have left your "mark."

We are proud of those students in our graduating class who bring academic glory to themselves and to our school. We are proud too, of those of whom it can be said, "They were good citizens."

And now the doors will soon swing open. On behalf of the staff I wish for each of you a challenging but successful journey. We have enjoyed having you with us for three brief years at Eastglen and trust that your stay was both pleasant and profitable. We look forward to hearing of your future successes.

Sincerely,

LEON F. WENDT.

GRAD CLASS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Class of 1959 is Eastglen's fifth graduating class. This year marks for most of us, the final touches to twelve interesting years, the last three being at this wonderful school, Eastglen. Our final year at Eastglen has been a most successful one, and we shall always be grateful for having had the privilege to attend such a modern, up-to-date school.

The Grad Class executive was elected late in December, and work commenced to plan for the banquet and dance. A new school pin and ring design was adopted and orders for rings and pins were taken in January

On Friday, May 1, the graduation exercises took place. A backward glance of the class' three-year history was presented by Bob Gillespie, Class Historian. The Valedictory Speech was delivered by Beth Carmichael, Valedictorian of Class '59.

The banquet and dance followed the next evening at the Jubilee Auditorium, with over 300 guests attending. Speakers included Don Macpherson who proposed a toast to the school and Mr. L. F. Wendt, who replied. Bernie Bradley toasted the grads and was replied by Bill Elliott, Grad Class President. The humorous Grad Class Prophesy was delivered by Tom Gable. Entertainment was provided by a vocal selection by Pat Overton and a piano solo by Beth Carmichael.

Members of the executive wish to express their very sincere thanks to Mr. A. Cotsman and Mrs. W. Nielsen for their assistance and guidance as sponsors of the Class.

VALEDICTORY

I would like to tell you a story

There was once a small boy who had always had a thirst for adventure. His parents were at times apprehensive for him but they were always ready to encourage and assist him. He scorned assistance, however and his independence often resulted in skinned knees and elbows.

As he grew into a youth, he heard exciting tales of a land far to the west of his home-of impenetrable forests, of rushing rivers, of mighty glaciers, of towering mountains. Beyond these mountains, no one knew what lay.

When he reached manhood, he set out to explore this land for himself. With a few companions and two Indian guides, he crossed the fairly easy and well chartered prairies. Then they sighted the foothills.

Although they had a few maps, as the country became more hazardous, guides familiar with each aspect of the terrain became necessary. Some knew the easiest way through valleys, others the secret crossing of deep rivers. Occasionally they were reluctant to take the advice of their guides but they found that expert knowledge could not be ignored.

There were often obstacles—impossible waterfalls, discouraging portages, dangerous rapids. Despair caused some of his comrades to desert. But somehow all the obstacles were overcome, the Great Divide passed, and with weary delight the small party struggled out of the dark chasms of the mountains and on to a sun-lit plain. As they stopped to rest, their eyes involuntarily turned again towards the west, and there before them lay a great expanse of shin-

What lay beyond? More danger, possibly, but a challenge certainly, and one which could not be ignored.

What you ask has this to do with me?

Well, I shall tell you.

You are the explorer. You are the one who set out across the fairly easy, well chartered early grades. That Math exam in Grade Nine was your dangerous river crossing; that difficulty with essays your discouraging portage. Those guides whose advice was based on intimate knowledge of the terrain were and are your teachers. The Great Divide looms up before us in a few weeks time. You and I will feel the glow of achievement which comes with the crossing of this barrier.

But wait a moment. Just as the ocean, reached by the explorers is but a challenge to further adventure, so graduation is not a goal, but a beginning.

Although we look back over the land we have crossed, grateful for the expert guidance of our teachers and the understanding, forebearance and encouragement of our parents, we must still look ahead.

We are naturally reluctant to leave the security of explored territory and the companionship of tried friends. But at our feet lies an ocean. We cannot rest until we find what lies beyond this horizon.

Bon voyage.

GRAD CLASS PROPHECY

Time has passed rapidly since I left school and now I am at the ripe old age of twenty-two. Flying over Edmonton in my private DC-7, I was compelled to land and look around. Of course, by now you must think I am a great success. I am not a success but I have lots of money. I sent John Beresford Tipton forty million Colgate soap wrappers and he sent me a million dollars. This really isn't success, but who's kicking?

When my plane tried to make a landing, I was pounced upon by two planes piloted by Brygadyr and Newsome. Each pilot had his work eased by Stewardesses Overton, Rychel and Collier, who all seemed to be anxious to see my plane in many pieces on the ground. Well, that's where I wound up. My plane was a wreck and before I knew what hit me, I was in an ambulance driven the editor, and on the sport page I read that Bruce Mc-

And to top it all he drove 90 m.p.h. in reverse getting to the hospital.

Upon arriving at the hospital, I was immediately grabbed by nurses White, Portlock, Neve and Martell who to tell me I had filled out my tax forms incorrectly. lugged me off for X-rays. There I met Sylvia Sedor who threw me around like bread dough. When I got out of there I was glad to hit the sack until Midge Lambert nailed me with what seemed to be a five-inch hypo. It wouldn't have been too bad if she had not thrown it from the room across the hall. Actually, I was feeling very good but Dr. Herb O'Brien insisted on taking out my appendix. Also on hand at the grand opening were dentist Pat Sugiura and his assistant, Sharon McAuley. Pat was there to take my teeth out. When I was finally let out I ran into R.C.M.P. officers Parsons, Vos, and Davidson, who accused me of being a foreign agent. I met Doug Cameron in the hall and he helped to hasten my exithe's a mortition.

When I finally made Jasper Avenue I ran into Bill Elliott and Dennis Jacobson. Both were sporting Navy uniforms. On each arm they had special attachments-

I went to buy a car but was discouraged when mechanics Schacher and Zalucky argued that the car would not work because the other had fixed it. There was nothing I could do but hop a bus driven by my old friend George Mix. He explained he did it to keep his mind off his problemstoo many oil wells. I then headed for Eastglen to see if it had lasted the lab experiments over the years.

On arriving, I went into the office and was cordially greeted by secretaries Fullen, Harvey and Luchak. Carmen Sansom was sitting at the switchboard listening to the latest happenings.

From the office I went across the hall and arrived just in time to see Mr. Kolotyluk hit Warren Price in the head with a molecule of methane. Even as a student teacher, Warren falls asleep in class.

I went down the hall and saw Bob Edgar teaching I saw a new building going up and went over to see Physics. He looked down at his pupil and said in his mild had the cutest wife and who was going to get the coffee. on their pupils that day. #### GRAD CLASS HISTORY

It somehow amazes me that we graduands, just finishing high school, at the age of 17 or 18, with our whole lives still ahead of us, should have so many memories of life. But we do, we have a wonderful history and I would like to review the past three years by looking through the old yearbooks that serve as storehouses of our memories.

Turning the first few pages we come to the staff pictures. Though we have only been here three years many of the teachers have aged much more; we're such well behaved students. Perhaps in twenty years we will better appreciate what they have done for us.

Next, the pictures of those who graduated in our junior years. We realize how very few of our illustrious seniors we knew. But this year we get to be the snobs and it is our turn to say nasty things about the grade tens. Also, it is somewhat sobering to realize how one or two years in age or grade can separate people so effectively during high school years and yet mean nothing ten years hence.

Further on is the important part of the yearbook, our class pictures. My, how people do change!

There's Tom Bagle, wasn't he cute in those days. Joe Batty, our quiet efficient Student's Union President who was always calling the Vice-President loud and inefficient. And Maynard Vollan, such a quiet looking boy-oh, he's asleep. What a serious face "Smiles" Macpherson had in those first days-before he joined the "Corn Club." Finally that ridiculous looking person behind him-oh, it's me.

Seriously we have all changed considerably during the past three years. We've developed physically, mentally and emotionally and done our first real thinking about ourselves, other people and life; or at least we should have. Also it's sad to notice how many of the people we started highschool with have dropped out along the way. Those of us who have made it should feel like finishers in a marathon race.

A little further on we find the pictures of the previous Student's Unions. In grade ten we wondered what the Student's Union did for us, but now, after participating in it for three years, we know what it does-nothing!

Truthfully, our Student's Union is responsible for many of the wonderful events that we will remember long after we have araduated.

Next are pictures of all the school clubs and organizations. It has been said that to receive the most benefit and enjoyment from one's highschool years, a person should be active, meeting as many people as possible and doing as many things as possible. For those of us who have participated in school activities there will be many wonderful memories, such as the time the Science Club filled the hallowed halls of Eastglen with the delicate smell of H2S. Also our social activities, the dances and parties, and finally that last grand function—the "Grad Dance." The boys had difficulty realizing how many beautiful girls they had been going to school with.

Our years at Eastglen saw many firsts. Such new things as Career Day and Dress-Up Days. The house system was introduced and this brought the fun and worry of our fabulous lits.

Looking at team pictures brings to mind another "first" that came in our grade ten year. Eastglen won both city football championships and surprised everybody, especially Eastglen. The championship caused nearly 300 Eastglenites to embus and head for Calgary and the Inter-City game. It was cheering, laughing and singing all the way—until we lost the game. But it was still a wonderful experience.

More team pictures: swimming, badminton and our beloved basketball teams, knobby knees and all.

Unfortunately between all these good times there was the small matter of schoolwork and exams; but somehow we survived. Actually the acquisition of knowledge at Eastglen has been neither incidental nor accidental, rather it is the prime reason for our being here and I hope that all of us will make good use of our schooling and go on to acquire more.

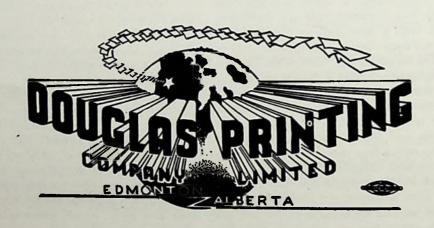

My only regret about high school days is that they must pass. It is hard to realize that in three years Eastalen will have a completely different student body and we will have gone our separate ways and we will be forgotten. My greatest ambition in life is to return in twenty years and see what has become of everyone.

Finally, I hope that in ten or twenty years our yearbook will again be open and we will recall memories of good friends and happy times from our high school days at Eastalen.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

THE BRIDGE BUILDER

An old man going a lone highway
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sudden stream had no fear for him:
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," said a fellow pigrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building
here.
Your journey will and title to

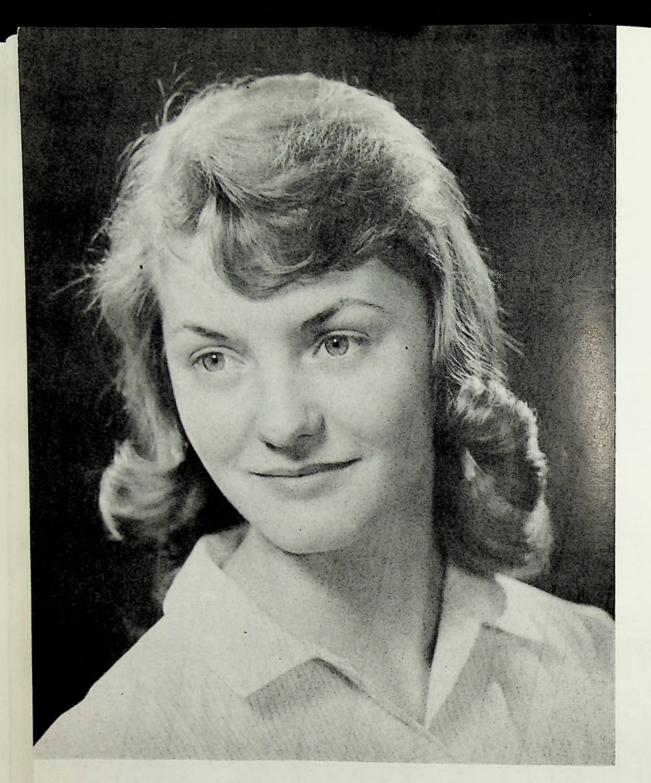

here.
Your journey will end with the ending day,
You never again will pass this way;
You've crossed the chasm deep and wide.
Why build you this bridge at eventide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head.
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me today
A youth, whose feet must pass this way:
This chasm, that has not been hard for me,
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He too must cross in the twilight dim—
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."

Members of the Eastglen Table Tennis Club have been improving their ping pong skill ever since the club was formed in late October. A continuous tournament, pyramid style, ensures that each player is in competition with other members of similar ability. Interest is keen as players move up and down the pyramid.

As this report is being written, a city high school tournament is in the planning stage. Early in 1959 two informal competitions between the Eastglen and the Victoria Composite Clubs indicated that interest and skill will have a high level. be at a high level.

Girls' Sports

Girls' sports this year have forged ahead with the speed of the rocket age. At the beginning of the year, with basketball as the first interschool sport, the Junior Girls, coached by Miss Bird, won the city championship. The Senior Girls, coached by Mrs. Shapka, were a close second. Both leagues were comparatively equal in strength. The team members, officials and coaches enjoyed an especially exciting year.

In volleyball, the Junior Girls came in third after a three-way tie for first place with Ross Sheppard and Vic. The Seniors, however, did come out on top after beating Ross Sheppard. The Eastglen Girls this year have brought much honor to their school, not only in being capable enough to win championships but also in showing sportsmanship.

With track and field events yet to come, the chances are very good for the girls' teams making out well. This does not mean, however, that all the girls than can participate are coming out to support their school.

In intramural sports, their were two leagues in each sport, volleyball and basketball. The junior league consisted of Phys. Ed. classes while the senior league was run by the house system. The winners of each league went to play against other intramural teams from other schools at the close of each season. Both basketball and volleyball intramurals have had good turnouts with volleyball being the more popular.

Something new was started this year, in the way of an intramural sport. This was "Milk Carton Bowling." This proved to be interesting and enjoyable, even to the boys. It was run only as an experiment for a sport to filt the void between basketball and volleyball.

Much credit is due to the teachers who helped the conveners organize the intramural sports and also those teachers who supervised during the noon hour. Thanks must also go to those teachers who coached and supervised the interschool teams. Without the co-operation and help of these people there would have been no sports for girls this year.

I would like to wish those girls participating in the intramural sports in future years the same enjoyable time we had this year. Best of luck.

Boys' Sports

Another year is nearly over. Although Eastglen didn't have the best of years in the field of sports, the boys did manage to win one high school championship. Eastglen's students have certainly shown a lot of enthusiasm by coming out and cheering for their team. The participation in athletics at the inter-school level has shown a lot more enthusiasm than in the past years. The houseleague parparticipation did have a slight drop. Next year we hope that the students will take more interest and make Eastglen sports a larger success.

The teams supplied plenty of opposition for their rivals and showed good sportsmanship throughout the season. Next year with our increased knowledge, Eastglen should be a stronger contender. Also, let's hope that the non-active students will come out and cheer for their favorite team, Eastglen, and make it the biggest and best season that Eastglen has ever had.

Eastglen Senior Football

While the scorebook shows two wins—four losses this year, not an impressive record, it doesn't tell the whole story. Our team acquired the reputation of having the toughest defence in the league. The offensive team won the less enviable title of being the most penalized team in the league. Penalties served to choke off many fine offensive marches and gave our defensive team many opportunities to display its power.

The high point of our season was our game against Vic. With both teams displaying excellent ball, the game developed into a tough defensive struggle. Vic scored three singles before Eastglen launched the longest sustained march of the game. We took the ball deep in our own end and marched it to Vic's 18-yard line, only to lose the ball on a fumble. The final score: 3-0 Vic. We could take some consolation from the fact that we had held the best team in our league to three points.

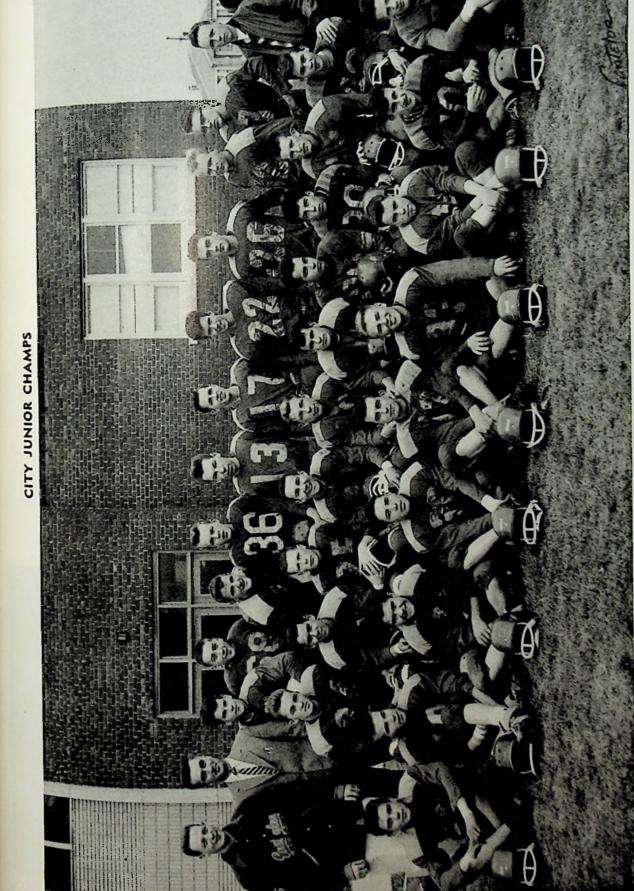

So again, this year, we have to say, "Wait till next year."

Senior Boys' Basketball

The 1958-59 edition of Eastglen's Senior Basketball team had, what could hardly be called a sensational year. They did, however, win a fair share of their games, and posed a great threat to every team in the league, for when Eastglen had an "on" night they were hot. The "on" and "off" nights which Eastglen had can be attributed to only one factor, lack of experience, and not to lack of desire or hustle. When Eastglen went into every game they had a lot of hustle, but a few tough breaks prevented them from winning more games than they did. This factor of experience was undoubtedly the downfall of the team, but you can bet a plug nickel that the experience the boys got this season will lead to a real contender next year. Special thanks go to Mr. J. Allen for the endless hours he spent coaching the team. So until next year, the best of luck to him, and the boys.

Junior Boys' Basketball

The Junior Boys' Basketball team started the schedule by handicapping themselves with a decisive defeat at the hands of a strong Ross Sheppard squad. However, they did not seem to be discouraged as they retaliated by trouncing Bonnie Doon to a score of 42-24. Progressing into the early schedule, the team had a series of bad luck when they relinquished victory to well matched teams in four heart-breaking overtime sessions. The next game was a successful attempt for the home school squad as they again defeated Bonnie Doon. The team again lapsed into a series of defeats at the hands of stronger opponents. In view of the fact that the team ended near the bottom of the league, the games were quite well attended.

BOYS' INTER-SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL

Once again Eastglen participated in active inter-school volleyball despite the absence of an actual league. Two invitation tournaments, at Bonnie Doon and Scona Composite High Schools, served as a warm-up for the championship tournament played at Ross Sheppard. The three grade levels each played off in two "after-four" sessions. Each level had a team from all seven of Edmonton's High Schools. The quality of play in this tournament, especially among the Grade Twelve's was very high, and this indicates that volleyball is becoming more and more popular throughout the city. Following are the winners in that tournament:

Grade X —Scona-Ross Sheppard-Vic (tied). Grade XI —St. Mary's.

Grade XII-Bonnie Doon.

The system used to arrange the schedules for the games was the same as last year and proved very satisfactory. A few of their games, which were played on Fridays, were defaulted due to poor turnouts, but the rest of the schedule was followed satisfactorily. The team

Frosh Day

The fashionable sack was the order of the day for the frosh, while the freshettes looked ravishing in sweat suits and men's shirts on Eastglen's annual Frosh Day. Pin curls, nylons, and dolls of all shapes and sizes completed the boy's outfits. The girls' ensembles were complemented by nylon queues and guns in holsters.

"Your pretty funny, too!

How convenient!

'Mary Had a Little Lamb'

"Guilty? of course!"

"How's the water?"

After a long day, offenders were brought before Judge Dave Collier and his Kangaroo Court. Prosecutor Bob Gillespie greatly overshadowed the valiant efforts of Dennis Good for the defense. The unbiased jury of seniors convicted all, including their fellow superiors who were accused of "Cruelty to Dumb Animals."

"Didn't it taste very good?"

U.N. DAY

TOMMY WAGLER

ROSE MARIE WILINSKI

DENNY

In early October, the U.N. Club sponsored a programme for the students on United Nations Day. Speeches from Mr. Brown, and Anders Petersen preceded talks by Denny Deane, Tommy Wagler, and Rose Marie Wilinski who described their experiences at the U.N. Summer School at Banff.

A committee comprising about 15 members of the United Nations Club and having the guidance of Mr. G. L. Brown organized the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund "Fill-the-Milk Bottle Campaign," held on October 23, 24 and 27. Posters showed that just 1c could buy three large glasses of milk and 10c could cure three people of yaws. A large milk bottle was placed in the rotunda where the students and staff made their contributions. When all the pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, and dollars were counted up, they totalled $68.51.

"Marryin' Sam's Delight"

"Straight from the cartoon strips!"

Prizes for game winners, costumes, and dances were given away. Even the teachers got in the mood ,and arrived in their best Dogpatch-style clothes for the Sadie Hawkins dance held at the beginning of the year

"Isn't he graceful?"

Costumes, music, games and dancing all went together to make a very successful evening with the presentation of the first Social function of the year, "Marryin' Sam's Delight."

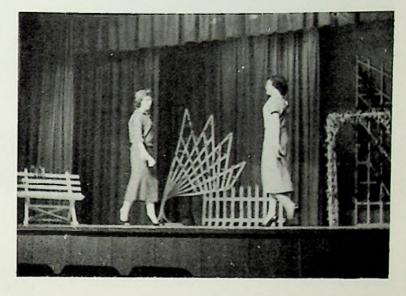

"Who is the little lady in black?"

Something new ,by the way of a Hoop-athon, was introduced. Endurance contests to see who could spin the hula hoop the longest were really a riot. And we discovered that teachers, or at least one of them ,can hula hoop like experts .

FASHION SHOW

A fashion show held on Parents' Night featured garments made by students in fabrics and dress 10, 20 and 30 classes.

The supervision of Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Morrish insured the show a success, Anita Rychel and Doreen Guthrie handled the commentary.

HOUSE FOUR LIT

As the curtain opened, eight young girls, dressed in blue suede packets, jeans, and ivy league caps introduced us to the acts with their conversation.

The show started with a lively tumbling act. A solo of a popular hit tune received a large round of applause. The Roulettes, a group of guitarists gave out with two rock and roll tunes.

Time went back to the '20's with a wonderful demonstration of the Charleston. A take-off on the tune "Tom Dooley" in which the name was replaced by Kim Stooley, added more humor to the show.

The final act with the Drifters, a popular band around the school, and their arrangement of "The Drifter" brought the first lit of the year to an end.

HOUSE 2 LIT

A testimonial dinner for a well known man-about-Eastglen, Darryl Havrelock, was the theme for the House 2 lit. A few facts about "Eastglen's lifetime athlete" were followed by an E. P. favorite, acted by Darryl.

His frosh friend, Suzie, tried to teach him to dance to the accompaniment of the chorus singing "Shall We Dance?" Next came a tribute to Suzie in the form of a song. A young jazz band came next with a rendition of a blues song. "My True Love" and a few jokes received more applause.

The high light of the lit came when ten charming young girls kicked and fluttered very fell through a "Can-Can" routine. With a finale by the whole cast, the lit ended.

HOUSE 3 LIT

The life story of the All American boy, Rufus Parsely was the theme of the third lit of the year, put on by House 3. The hill-billy friends of Rufus gave a rendition of "Doing What Comes Natcherly," and with Mrs. Parsley giving some motherly advice, the first act closed.

Another phase of Rufus' life was shown when four truckers gave out with "Cannonball." The final act showed the discovery of Rufus as a very talented boy. A hilarious arrangement of "Beep Beep" got the audition off to a start. A successful solo and a quartet followed.

The Drifters got into the show again with their ever popular "The Drifters." The finale came with Rufus himself doing "Love Me", a huge success according to the girls on the stage.

Before the end of the lit, Rufus was shown sadly going on his way to join the army.

HOUSE 1 LIT

Oh, those T.V. westerns! A teenage western, complete with commercials, was presented by House 1: "Gunsmoke Gets In Your Eyes."

The troubles of Sheriff Matt Killem and his sidekick, Lester in bringing to justice the posterior lessis leave made for a year interesting.

to justice the nortorious Jessie Jeans, made for a very interesting program. With a new ending as compared to the standard western, Matt ended up hung, and Lester, who had joined forces with Jessie and an Eastern dude,

Musical items, as well as fast, exciting action were featured in the show, the last lit of the year.

Frosty Frolic

Before Christmas exams, the annual winter dance "Frosty Frolic" was held with music provided by Zen Magus and his orchestra. A fairly large crowd of students and teachers attended the second social function of the year. Novelty dances were featured. Mr. "Santa Claus" Allen arrived with all his bells and a very becoming long white beard and gave out gifts to some very fortunate boys and girls.

"The band and vocalists"

"Oh no, not another joke!"

Spring Fantasy

As soon as Easter holidays were over, the final school social function of the year was held. The dance, "Spring Fantasy" proved a welcome break after the return of exam marks. Music was provided by the Strollers, a local band, and the dance was attended by the largest crowd of the year, and again enjoyed by all. It brought the end of a very successful social year for Eastglen.

"CLOUD SEVEN"

What happens when an average American man suddenly quits his Average American job after years of leading a routine life? Hundreds of people found the answer to this question when they attended Eastglen's annual year play; a hilarious comedy "Cloud Seven." Mr. Newton L. Reece, the hero of the play, literally upsets the lives of the people he comes in contact with when he breaks the shackles of conformity.

EDITORIAL

DON MACPHERSON

At the beginning of this year, the majority of us did not know how to put out a year book, but the fact that this publication is now in the hands of the readers speaks for the perseverence of the members of the yearbook staff. For this reason, I would like to thank them for the many noon hours and evenings spent writing and compositing in the last few months. Credit is also due to the staff sponsors, Mr. Brown, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Bourgoin, who all beat us over the head to get the yearbook out on time. Lastly, we of the yearbook would like to thank the students themselves for their cooperation this year. Most note worthy was the effort made in forcing a big smile for the photographer during the shooting of the home room pictures: well done undergrads!

This year, we can't wish well to a principal who is leaving, but we certainly wish the best to a new one. This school has been one of the best in Edmonton since it was built in 1953. It still is the best and always will be the best as long as fine principals like Mr. Deane and Mr. McCoy continue to run it. And so we of the yearbook, especially those of us who are graduating would like to thank our principal, Mr. Deane, for a good year. We leave this school with some regrets, but we also look forward to an even more successful future for Eastglen.
